

Avocado Production for New Growers

Are you new to the Avocado Industry?

Have you just purchased a grove and feel like you need some education?

Have you been growing avocados for some time but have some basic questions?

This may be the class for you!!

6 weekly classes, PLUS the Ag Waiver Water School Training

1:00 – 3:00 pm, Thursday afternoons located at the Rancho California Water District 42135 Winchester Rd, Temecula, CA 92590

Instructor: Gary Bender Ph.D.

And a Saturday field trip to a UC Cooperative Extension High Density Trial

Classes Start January 30, 2014

Schedule of Classes: (No refunds for classes missed)

- Jan 30, Introduction to Agriculture in San Diego County, History of Avocado Production in California
- Feb 6, Botany, Flowering, Varieties, Harvest Dates, Rootstocks
- Feb 14 (FRIDAY), Irrigation Systems, Irrigation Scheduling, Salinity Management
- Feb 20, Fertilization, Organic Production
- Feb 27, Insect and Mite Control, Disease Control
- Mar 6, Canopy Management, Tree Spacing, Frost Management
- Mar 13, Ag Waiver Water School Training – Dr. Loretta Bates
- Mar 15, 1:00 pm, Saturday Field Trip to High Density Trial and a Commercial Grove

UCCE - San Diego

For more information contact

Cristina Lomeli 760-752-4724

SUPPORTED BY

Registration

Avocado Production for New Growers

Classes start Thursday, January 30th

Rancho California Water District

42135 Winchester Rd, Temecula, CA 92590

Name: _____

Address: _____

City/State/Zip: _____

Email: _____@_____

Phone: _____

Total cost is $105.00 per person. Includes class material and a bonus publication.

Please make checks to UC Regents.

Mail to: UCCE - San Diego
Attn: Cristina Lomeli (Avocado Series)
151 E Carmel, San Marcos, CA 92078

Space is limited so register early. Pay by credit card online at <http://ucanr.edu/avocadoproductionseries2014>

UCCE - San Diego

For more information contact

Cristina Lomeli 760-752-4724

SUPPORTED BY